BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

City, Boston.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS,
CITY HALL, Boston, June, 1875.

To His Honor the Mayor and the City Council: —

GENTLEMEN, — The Board of Fire Commissioners have the honor to submit their second annual report of the condition of the department under their charge, of the expenditures during the year ending April 30th, 1875, together with the record of fires and losses during the same period. This report is in reality the record of the first year of the present organization, since, for reasons stated in the last report, no important changes in the organization or method of management of the department were made till April, 1874. The appointment of William A. Green as Chief Engineer, and of the several Assistant Engineers as permanent officers, marked distinctly the change from the old to the new system of management.

The reorganization of the companies of the department which had been begun when the last report was made has been carried on to the full extent then proposed, so that now the companies in the districts of the city proper are all of them made up of permanent members. It is proposed to change Engine Co. No. 22, now located on Parker street, from a "call" to a "permanent company" as soon as the new house now building for the company on Dartmouth street is completed and ready for occupation.

The value of any system must be judged of by its results, and it is to this test that the Board desire to direct your attention in reviewing the record of the past year. In the reorganization, management and government of the force the Board have steadily adhered to the principles laid down in the report of last year. They have endeavored to impress upon all, both officers and men, the importance of the duties imposed upon them, and the necessity of a faithful performance of each one, even of those which may appear trivial, and they have held every man to a strict responsibility for whatever trust may have been imposed upon him. The faithful carrying out of these principles has produced its natural result in the discipline and efficiency of the force.

The rules and regulations originally adopted after careful consideration, and the orders issued from time to time, have been rigidly enforced, and with strict impartiality. Some of them may seem at first sight severe, or exacting; but no rule has been adopted which was not deemed necessary to secure the end which the Board have in view, — the perfection of the department, — and hence none which it was not intended should be lived up to fully. The number of dismissals for intoxication, neglect of duty and bad conduct has not been very large; viz., 31; though it is to be regretted that it is not smaller. In most of these cases the use of liquor has been the primary cause of trouble; but in no instance has any one been dishonorably discharged or punished in any way until after a full investigation, when the accused was heard in his own defence and such evidence as he could bring was duly weighed. The Board have endeavored always to impress upon the members of the department that strict justice should be done them in all cases. The general readiness to submit to any requirement which is considered by the Board necessary for the good of the service and the safety of the city is satisfactory evidence of the reasonableness of the requirements and of the intelligence and good character of the men.

In making appointments the Board have been governed solely by the good character, physical capacity, and special fitness for the duties required of the appointees.

In a word, the Board believe that the department as now constituted is one every way creditable to the city, and a force more reliable and better able than ever before to give the protection to property which may justly be expected from it.

No piece of apparatus belonging to the department will be allowed out of the city without the authority of the Chief or an Assistant Engineer.

Engines Nos. 4, 9, 25 and 26 are never to be sent out of the city.

Engine No. 5 is never to cross the ferry, unless specially sent for.

HOUSES.

This year, for the first time, the repairs of the houses of the department have been made by the Board, and charged to the appropriation of the Fire Department. They had previously been made by the Department of Public Buildings, and charged to the appropriation for that department. The work has this year largely been done by permanent men of the department. It is the settled policy of the Board to detail men of the several permanent companies to make all needed repairs, where it can be done without weakening the effective force. Almost every trade is represented, and it is but right that the city should have the benefit of their skill when occasion requires. The experience of the past year shows clearly the advantage of such a policy, and it may well be that a considerable saving will result to the city in consequence. The houses generally are now in good repair, although a moderate outlay will be required during the coming year to keep them in good condition. The new house for Engine Co. No. 3 and Hook and Ladder Co. No. 3, at the corner of Harrison avenue and Bristol street, is completed, and will shortly be occupied by these companies. The architectural effect of the building is good and appropriate, and the internal arrangements are in all respects satisfactory. The quarters of the men are planned with a view to their health and comfort; and the stable arrangements are such as to insure for the horses an abundance of light and air, and to keep as far as possible the smell of the stable out of the main building.

The house intended for Engine Co. No. 22 is now building on Dartmouth street, at the railroad bridge, and will probably be ready for occupation by the first of July.

The Board have recommended (and the City Council have ordered) that land be obtained and three houses built; one in the vicinity of Eggleston square, one at West Roxbury village, and one near Allston Station, Brighton District, for additional fire apparatus, which, in the judgment of the Board, are required at those points. It is expected that these will be built during the summer, provided satisfactory locations can be secured.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus of the department consists at present of 36 Steam Fire Engines (29 in service, 7 in reserve); 7 Chemical Engines (5 in service, 2 in reserve); 15 Hose Carriages, (11 in service, 4 in reserve) ; 12 Hook and Ladder Carriages (11 in service, 1 in reserve) ; 15 Coal Wagons ; 34 Pungs.

Very considerable repairs have been required during the year, in order to keep in good and serviceable condition the entire apparatus, both that in service and that in reserve. The boilers of Engines No. 16 and 20 were found in a very bad condition, and were made over. Engine 18 proves to be in a similar condition, and will have to be rebuilt. With this exception, the apparatus is at present in good order, and will probably require, during the ensuing year, only the usual amount of small repairs, unless serious accidents should occur. The number of accidents resulting in serious injury to apparatus has considerably diminished, largely in consequence of more careful driving. Reckless or too rapid driving is strictly forbidden. The important thing is to have the apparatus reach the fire in a serviceable condition, and it is clearly of more consequence to ensure that, than to run the risk of having an engine overturned, or otherwise disabled, in order to make a possible gain of a few seconds. At the same time promptness in reaching the fire is impressed upon all members of the department as their most important duty.

The new apparatus bought during the past year consists of 3 Chemical Engines, 4 light Pungs, 18 Pungs fitted to carry a reel of hose, 1 two-wheel Hose Carriage, and 2 Concord Wagons.

In the appropriation approved for the ensuing year the estimate of $16,000 for new apparatus was for the proposed purchase of a Steam Fire Engine, a Hook and Ladder Truck, two or more Hose Carriages, and an additional Chemical Engine. A portion of this new work will probably be made at the new repair shop.

The expediency of making the Steam Fire Engines in service "self-propellers," that is, of doing away with horses on the engines, has been considered by the Board, and as an experiment, the engine known as the "Propellor," hitherto drawn by horses, has been run for six months as a Steam Propellor, by Engine Co. No. 21. The results have been very satisfactory. There is no difficulty in keeping up 50 pounds of steam at all times, by means of the new coal-heaters, at a very moderate cost. The steamer is ready to start the instant an alarm is received, and go at a uniform speed as rapidly as may be desired. The Board are not prepared to make a change of so radical a kind at present, but call attention to it as a question deserving careful consideration in the purchase of new engines, to replace old ones worn out. The only objection to their introduction is that they are supposed to frighten horses more than the engines drawn by horses. The experience of the past year does not show any accidents from this cause. They are now in successful use in New York and Detroit.

The Fire Boat has on all occasions calling for its services shown itself a very useful and important arm of the service, and justified its continuance as a means of protection of the water front. During the past winter it performed an important service in breaking ice from the channels, and in keeping open access to various parts of the water front, where, in case of fire, it would have been the main dependence.

STEAM HEATERS.

During the past year ten of the principal engines have been furnished with steam circulating heaters (coal-burning), of such capacity that steam can be kept constantly in the boilers of the engines as they stand in their houses, at a pressure of upwards of 30 lbs. when required. In practice, however, it is found that there is no necessity of maintaining a pressure of more than 5 lbs., since the pressure can be carried up to the working point, generally before the engine reaches the fire, and uniformly before the connections are made to the hydrant and the hose run off, even when the fire is very near to the engine house.

An incidental advantage is the benefit to the boiler of being kept at a uniform temperature. Coal-burning heaters were adopted in preference to any form of gas-heaters known to the Board, from their greater capacity, durability and economy. Five more have been bought, and will shortly be set up.

HOSE.

The number of feet of hose in use remains about the same as was reported a year ago, viz. : —

Leather hose,	24,610 feet.
Cotton “	25,361 “
Rubber “	23,943 “
	73,914 feet.

About 10,000 feet of hose of all kinds have been condemned as entirely unserviceable, and most of it sold, and its place supplied by new hose purchased during the year, viz. : —

Cotton hose,	6,600 feet.
Rubber “	3,100 “
	9,700 feet.

As to quality any estimate is at best an approximation, but the quality now is believed to be somewhat better than it was a year since, and the following relative quantities not out of the way : —

Good, 40 per cent.	29,565 feet.
Fair, 40 per cent.	29,566 “
Not reliable, 20 per cent.	14,783 “
	73,914 feet.

The whole amount of suction hose is 1,112 feet.

HORSES.

The department is at present well equipped with horses, though there are still some which will soon be replaced by fresh ones better able to do the work required of them. The number now in service is 126; the number in service April 30, 1874, was 117. During the year 1 has died from disease and 2 have been killed by accident; 8 have been sold or exchanged and 20 have been purchased. The general health has been excellent, and in the absence of any prevalent disease the good condition of the horses is mainly due to good care and intelligent management on the part of those having them in charge. This important branch of the department receives, as it deserves, constant attention. The stable arrangements in some of the older houses have been improved so as to give better light and ventilation, points which have received special consideration in the houses recently built and now building.

REPAIR SHOPS.

The need of a repair shop, and the reasons why it is desirable to establish one, were given fully in the last report, and need not be repeated here. A hose and harness repair shop was started in September, in unoccupied rooms of the new house of Engine Co. No. 25 and Hook and Ladder Co. No. 8, on Washington square. Two men have been employed during the past six months, and have been assisted by one or two detailed there from the permanent force when required. During this time they have made all needed repairs of the hose and harnesses of the department, and in addition thereto made a considerable quantity of new work. It has thus far come up to the expectations of the Board.

The apparatus repair shop is but just established, owing to the fact that the building designed for it was not vacated by Hook and Ladder Co. No. 3 till April 1st.

The necessary alterations have been made, and the machinery, which had been previously contracted for, has been placed in the house.

It remains to be seen whether this will also fulfil the expectations of the Board. The amount appropriated for equipping and fitting up the shop was $9,000; but of this sum only $6,241.45 had been expended up to May 1st. It is probable that the further sum of $1,000 will equip it sufficiently to do such work as it is proposed at present to undertake.

The following list of the principal machines and tools will serve to indicate the character of the equipment, and the capacity of the shop.

One 15 horse power steam engine, cylinder, 9 by 21 inches, (Putnam Machine Co.)

One 20 horse power upright tubular boiler.

“ 26-inch by 26-inch iron planer, 8 ft. table, 12 ft. bed.

“ 24-inch swing engine lathe, 10 ft. bed.

“ 16-inch “ “ “ 9½ ft. “

Two 14-inch “ “ “ 6 ft. “

One 13-inch “ hand lathe, 7½ ft. “

“ 13-inch “ “ “ 9 ft. “

“ No. 2 upright drill.

“ Sturtevant Pressure Blower.

Two blacksmith's forges.

One furnace for heating tires.

Together with the numerous smaller tools and appliances which are found in every well appointed machine shop.

FIRE-ALARM TELEGRAPH.

This indispensable branch of the Fire Department must, of necessity, be kept in good condition to insure its being at all times and under almost all circumstances perfectly reliable; and its proper care and management is justly regarded as of the first importance. The wires, boxes, machines and other apparatus are, with few exceptions, in a satisfactory condition. The wires, however, on the northeast, northwest, and a part of the Roxbury circuits, have been up a number of years, and are not in a condition to withstand the storms of another winter. These circuits must be re-run, and the wire for this purpose has already been purchased, and the work will be done the coming summer.

A change has been made in the form of battery, which will, it is believed, secure a more regular and steady action, and, at the same time, show a gain in the matter of labor and expense.

The Fire-Alarm Telegraphs of Charlestown and West Roxbury have not been changed, as was at one time thought desirable, but have been connected with the City Hall in such manner that alarms in those districts are received at head-quarters.

The Fire-Alarm system of the city proper has not been extended to Brighton District, as the necessity for it did not, in the opinion of the Board, seem great enough to justify the large expenditure which would be required. The holders of the Fire-Alarm Patents claim that the rights which the city has acquired, by purchase and otherwise, to use the patents apply simply to the territory comprised in the city limits previous to annexation, and do not extend to the districts recently annexed. There may be a question whether this claim is a valid one or not, but assuming that it is, the demands of the holders of the patents for the privilege of using them are so large, that the cost of establishing an efficient fire alarm in that district is greater than would be warranted by the benefits likely to result from the introduction. A telegraph line has, however, been run to the engine house in Brighton, and a double communication with the City Hall has been established.

The Dial Lines, mentioned in the report of last year as to be established, have all been run, and telegraphic communication is constantly had between the City Hall and the head-quarters of each district and the repair shop. They have proved essential to the best working of the department. The cost of these Dial Lines, and of the extension of wires to Brighton District, has been $4,633.72.

In consequence of the large increase of false alarms in the earlier part of the year, the locks on all the fire-alarm boxes in the city were changed. Keys of these boxes had been too freely issued, and some were in possession of evil-disposed persons who would give these false alarms for malicious purposes. All keys issued since the locks were changed have been receipted for, or given only to persons supposed to be trustworthy. It is expected that hereafter the number of false alarms will be diminished. Key-holders are especially urged to exercise great care that their keys do not fall into the hands of improper persons. Too great restrictions in giving out the keys would defeat the very object of the fire alarm, for promptness in giving alarms for fire is of the very first importance.

FIRES.

Your attention is specially called to the fact that during the year the city has, with the exception of the fires on the night of December 14th, been free from very large and disastrous fires.

This exemption, so far as it applies to the part of the city rebuilt since the fire of November, 1872, is due in part to the better construction of the buildings, and the more complete measures taken to prevent fires starting; but the Board think that it is in great measure due to the promptness of action, quick comprehension of the thing to be done in each case, and skill in directing operations, shown by the officers and men of the department. How true this is must be evident to all who have watched closely the operations of the past year.

Of course all fires, if neglected, will grow to be conflagrations; but there are occasionally fires where the delay of a very few minutes, or even seconds, results in wide-spread ruin. More than a dozen such fires have occurred during the year, and could be specially enumerated, which were promptly extinguished, most of them, with comparatively small loss, but which had in them, both from the character of the buildings, their contents and surroundings, or the state of the weather, the elements of a disastrous fire; and, but for the extraordinary exertions and devotion of the department, would unquestionably have resulted in a very serious destruction of property. There could be no clearer demonstration of the value and importance, especially for the closely built part of the city, of a permanently organized force, i.e., of men whose whole time is devoted to fire-duty, than several of the cases referred to have been.

The following summary of fires, loss, insurance on the property, damages, etc., shows on the whole the good fortune of the city during the year, and gives gratifying evidence of the ability of the department to confine fires within narrow limits.

Great care has been taken to make the tables of losses accurate, and they are believed to show a close approximation to the actual loss by fire. The records of previous years are judged to be, from various causes, incomplete, and probably understate the real losses. This should be borne in mind in comparing one year with another. Our means of obtaining information through engineers permanently employed induces us to believe that the statement of the present year is more reliable than in former years.

It should also be remembered that the city the past year included Charlestown, West Roxbury and Brighton, which have contributed their share of fires and losses. The loss by the fire on Hittinger's Wharf in Charlestown, was $159,975.00.

EXTENSIVE FIRES.

The fires on the night of the 14th of December last, on Plympton and Wareham streets, and on Hittinger's Wharf, were the most serious of the year, and were both large and destructive. They have been made the subject of a detailed investigation by the Board, in order to ascertain, if possible, not only the causes of the first fires, but how it happened that, in both cases, fires more destructive than the first should have broken out in the immediate vicinity of the first, when the former fires had been entirely subdued, and the greater portion of the force was still upon the ground; and, also, whether any blame attached to any one of the department in consequence.

The first alarm from Box 68, for the fire on Plympton street, was struck at 10.55 P.M., and was followed immediately by a second alarm. In the course of an hour this fire was got under control, although the ruins continued to burn. Five hours later (at 3.47 A.M.) the fire broke out in Wareham street, in the immediate vicinity of the first fire. The alarm from Box 68 was again struck, followed within ten minutes by a second and third, and an hour later by a general alarm. Meanwhile, at 1.20 A.M., the alarm was given in Charlestown District, for a fire in Thomas Cunningham's works, on Water street; ten minutes later the alarm was given from Box 4 to call assistance from the city proper. In the course of two hours this fire was under complete control, but about $4\frac{1}{2}$ hours later (at 6 A.M.), a fire broke out in the hay-shed on Hittinger's Wharf, near the former fire, and first and second alarms were given from Box 4, to again call force from the city. The fire at the South end was still raging, and it was thought best to call upon Cambridge, Chelsea, Somerville, and the Navy Yard, for aid, which they promptly furnished. This succession of fires, occurring even under the most favorable circumstances, would have been considered serious, both from the character and contents of the buildings and their combustible surroundings, but, occurring as it did, on one of the most severe nights of the winter, with the thermometer below zero, and the wind blowing a fierce gale, it taxed to the utmost the energies and capacity of the department.

PLYMPTON AND WAREHAM STREET FIRES.

The following detailed account of the several fires may be of interest. The first fire was discovered a few minutes before eleven, in the third story of Galvin and Currey's building, on Plympton street, occupied by S. Parker & Co. as a furniture manufactory. The fire was then so far under way that a dense smoke was pouring out of a broken pane of glass in the front window. Box 68, corner of Wareham street and Harrison avenue, was promptly pulled, and Hook & Ladder Company No. 3 were warned. They went at once with their hose carriage, attached to a hydrant on Dedham street, and had a stream of water upon the fire before the alarm was struck. At that time the flames were coming out of all the rear windows of that story. In thirty-five minutes the walls fell. The flames and sparks were driven to leeward with such violence by the gale that the lumber-sheds and small buildings on the opposite side of Plympton street caught fire at once and were partly burned. Beyond these this first fire did not extend, although the high buildings on the south side of Wareham street were very much exposed and were at times on fire. By half-past one o'clock, when the alarm was sounded for the Charlestown fire, this fire was under complete control. Engine 4 went to respond to the other alarm, but there remained Engines 3, 7, 12, 13, 14, 15, 22, 23, 25; Hose 2, 5, 7, 9; Ladders 3 and 4.

Streams of water were kept constantly playing upon the ruins and the half-burned timber from Plympton street and from the rear windows of some of the buildings on Wareham street.

At about two o'clock Mr. Zenas E. Smith (Smith and Jacobs) locked up his building and went home, having satisfied himself, by a careful personal examination of it from top to bottom, that there was at that time no fire in it and no danger to it from the ruins behind. His own foreman had previously made a similar examination with the same result. And yet within two hours after Mr. Smith went away satisfied that all was safe, a fire broke out in this very building, and had so spread itself through the building and into the adjacent ones before it was discovered that it was impossible to save it or them. During these two hours the officers and men of the department were on the ground with streams of water constantly playing. The thick smoke from the smouldering ruins was driven against Mr. Smith's building and prevented the men seeing the light of the fire, which was probably burning slowly inside, and it was only from the crackling of the fire which they heard, that they were led to suspect that Mr. Smith's building was on fire. The fire quickly crossed Wareham street, driven violently to leeward as before, and caught in J. J. McNutt's new building, occupied for the manufactory of furniture, which it was not long in destroying.

Sparks in clouds were carried in the direction of Emerson's piano-forte manufactory, and over beyond into the lumber yard and planing mill (wooden buildings), on the water side of Albany street, directly opposite the factory. These lumber yards and buildings were soon a mass of flames.

By six o'clock A.M. all danger of further spread of the fire was really over, but the entire available force was required to extinguish the ruins, which still burned fiercely.

The fact that the area burned over was considerable, and the destruction of property quite large, would excite no surprise in the mind of any one who was present, and could appreciate fully the very unusual combination of the most adverse conditions. The only matter of surprise to the Board is that the fire did not spread much farther, and cause very much greater loss ; in fact, it was only by extraordinary exertions that its further spread was prevented. The saving of certain buildings, which were either adjacent to, or directly in the line of the fire, reflects the highest credit upon the officers and men engaged, and is deserving of special mention ; notably the five-story manufactory of Creasy & Noyes, which was greatly exposed, in both the first and second fires ; the Novelty works of J. J. McNutt, immediately adjoining the factory burned, and Emerson's piano-forte factory, five stories high, with wooden cornice and mansard roof.

CHARLESTOWN FIRES.

The fire in Cunningham's boiler works started at the eastern end of the building, and communicated at once to Hittinger's building, immediately adjacent. They must both have been well on fire before the alarm was given, for when the department reached there, one third of Cunningham's building was in flames, and the fire was spreading through the whole of Hittinger's. The alarm given from Box 4, ten minutes after the Charlestown alarms, brought sufficient force from the city proper to prevent the fire doing much damage to other buildings ; although it caught in several places on the salt works, while sparks driven by the gale set fire to the rigging of the ship Reporter. Cunningham's and Hittinger's buildings were almost entirely destroyed, but the fire was got under complete control in the course of two hours, and the force from the city proper was sent home.

There remained, however, all the hose companies of the Charlestown district to extinguish the smouldering ruins, and the fire boat lay in the dock by the side of Hittinger's Wharf, at work on the fire in the rigging of the ship Reporter.

At 3.47 A.M., when the alarm came from Box 68 again, the Chief Engineer and several officers were on Hittinger's Wharf, having just finished a careful examination of all parts of the wharf, without discovering any trace of fire. They were the more careful in their examination, as this wharf was directly to leeward of the first fire, and there was reason to fear that some of the sparks, flying over in clouds, might have caught in the hay-shed, although at that time there was no evidence of it. And yet, more than two hours after this time, this very hay-shed on Hittinger's Wharf was discovered by Engineer Bartlett to be completely on fire, and beyond the possibility of saving it. The sparks and flames burst out with such suddenness and violence that both he and others at work on the wharf were forced to run for their lives. During all this time, the Fire Boat was lying at Hittinger's Wharf, and the men were at that very moment trying to get a stream along the side of the wharf, to reach the fore top-sail yard of the Reporter, where fire was still smouldering. The streams which had been playing upon the ruins of the first fire were at once turned upon this new fire, and alarm was given in Charlestown, and first and second alarms sounded from Box 4, to call what force could be spared from the city proper. Cambridge, Somerville, Chelsea and the Navy Yard responded promptly to the call made on them. It was at once evident that the building on Hittinger's Wharf could not be saved, and the force was directed to prevent the fire extending to the adjacent wharves. In this they were entirely successful. The salt works, which had been saved from the first fire, were destroyed with the other buildings on Hittinger's Wharf.

CAUSES OF THESE FIRES.

The Board, after careful examination of all the evidence which they could get, have been unable to decide with certainty as to the causes of the several fires, and the way in which they were started. Opinions have been freely advanced by persons whose judgment is entitled to weight, that one or more of these fires were incendiary, and there are certainly grounds for such opinions. There is reason to believe that the first fire on Plympton street was intentionally set, and, in the opinion of the Board, is unaccountable on any other theory. At the same time the evidence thus far obtained is not such as to fix the crime upon any one. The cause of the fire in Cunningham's works is unknown, but may have been the spontaneous combustion of waste, saturated with oil. The suspicions of incendiarism in the case of the second fires on Wareham street and Hittinger's Wharf are suspicions merely, and not supported by positive evidence. In the absence of such evidence, and, in fact, of all evidence pointing clearly in any direction, the Board are forced to assume that the fires in both instances caught in some way from the two earlier fires, and the fact that in each case the second fire was directly to leeward of the first would tend to confirm this view; but there is very great difficulty in seeing how it could have so caught, since in both instances the Smith and Jacobs building and Hittinger's hay-shed were carefully looked over, after all sparks had ceased to fly, without discovering the least trace of smouldering fire. In the case of Smith and Jacobs' building, it is possible that a spark may have found its way into the "shaving chute," either through the shaving pit situated outside of the building, or through some small opening, and lay smouldering in the saw-dust for a long time before it broke into flame. When the fire was discovered, this chute was the part most completely on fire. The "shaving chutes" of the two adjacent buildings, Smith and Jacobs', and Morton and Chesley's, were wooden rectangular tubes, running from the main floor of the two buildings till they came together out through the wall of the building, into a pit just outside, where the shavings from these buildings were collected to be used as fuel for the steam boilers. Whether or not the fire started in this way cannot be ascertained, but it is quite certain that these chutes, when once the fire was started, helped to spread it through these buildings with great rapidity.

In the case of the fire on Hittinger's Wharf, the hay-shed where it broke out was some distance from the building burned first, and separated effectually from it by buildings which were not burned, so that if the fire was communicated from the first building it must have been carried by sparks. The hay-shed was open at each end and considerably exposed, and flying sparks might easily enough have set fire to the bundles of hay inside. That it did take fire is no matter of surprise; but that a spark should have found lodgment among the hay, and have lain smouldering between two and three hours in a shed through which the wind was drawing freely, and with such force that it would naturally have fanned the least fire quickly into flame, and that such a smouldering fire should have escaped the notice of the various persons who were searching for any indications of fire on that wharf, is something which it is difficult to believe; and yet that fire must have originated in this way, or must have been set by some evil-disposed person.

It does not appear that the officers or men of the department showed any neglect of duty, or were at fault in the matter; but, on the contrary, the evidence all goes to show that they were well aware of the danger of fire being carried to other buildings, and that more than ordinary precautions were taken in consequence. As to the good conduct and admirable working of the department in preventing the spread of the fires when once started, there never was a question.

For the valuable aid furnished by the Fire Department of Cambridge, Somerville, Chelsea, Medford, and the Navy Yard, at the second Charlestown fire, the Board at the time expressed the thanks of the city, and the desire to reciprocate, should occasion require.

DANGERS AND ACCIDENTS.

The duties of firemen when answering alarms are always beset with danger, and for this reason the Board deem it necessary to appeal to property owners to be careful in the construction and arrangement of buildings, and to use such precaution as is due to public servants who may be called, at any moment of the day or night, to enter these buildings, filled with smoke, and fight against the spread and destruction of fire. For the protection of the men under their control and care, as well as for the more intelligent direction of operations when a fire breaks out, the Board make it incumbent upon the Assistant Engineers to acquaint themselves with the condition of all buildings in their respective districts. Walls, roofs, stairways, hatchways, chimneys, doors and passageways are things to be noticed by them, and frequent reports in writing are called for, to make it sure that this important duty is not lost sight of or neglected. With the men the stroke of the alarm-bell means instant movement, and smoke and flame issuing from a building must be followed bravely to its very source, with but little chance for reflection, and none for hesitation. It is plainly, then, the duty of the Board to scrutinize closely beforehand, the construction and care of buildings, the storage of goods in buildings, the means of ingress and egress to and from buildings, and to protest against and complain of neglects and traps which wickedly, although not purposely, increase the danger of, at best, a dangerous calling.

Nobody can be more strongly impressed with the importance of promptness in reaching fires, or the absolute necessity of immediate action where a fire breaks out, than this Board, and it was with this conviction that they issued the order forbidding the practice of furious driving. To reach a fire speedily and safely is what is expected of the drivers of apparatus, and they must have a reasonable regard to the safety of those who may be in the public streets at all times of alarms. The Board have no feeling in common with those who can see nothing but danger in rapid movement, and who do not understand why the right of way is given to the Fire Department ; but they forbid heedlessness and enjoin carefulness, that the men and the apparatus may as speedily as possible be taken to the place of alarm and need.

The number of accidents during the past year has been comparatively small. No lives have been lost at any fire, though the men have exposed themselves freely when occasion required. One accident resulted fatally. Mark W. Hayes, a member of Engine Co. 26, fell from the seat while driving the engine at drill, and was run over by the engine, and instantly killed. It is supposed that he became suddenly faint and fell, for the horses were going slowly, and there was nothing to have thrown him from his seat. In the following list of the causes of the casualties to members of the department, all in the line of duty, those cases only are included where the injuries received were of a somewhat serious nature, or resulted in permanent disability : —

The intemperate use of liquor in one form or another has been the immediate cause in the majority of cases, and the proximate cause in nearly all of them. The Board enjoin upon all the members of the department an entire abstinence from intoxicating liquors, and do all that is possible to discourage the use of them. No pledge is exacted, but in all cases where intoxication is clearly proven, the member has been dismissed, and in no instance been readmitted to the department. Upon this point there can be no question that the good of the service demands the inflexible carrying out of the rules.

EXPENSES OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Previous to the commencement of the financial year the Board made an estimate of the amount which they thought would be necessary to carry on the department, and the City Council made an appropriation in accordance therewith. The estimate was based upon the expenses of the year just ending, with such additions as the increased territory and the proposed changes in the organization of the department would make necessary. In the expenditure of the money appropriated, the actual need of the department, without reference to what has been done heretofore, has governed the action of the Board; and in closing the year with an unexpended balance of $112,192.21, they deem it proper to state, that immediate attention to the requirements of the department has been their rule ; and no necessary expenditure has been delayed, to make a show of economy, or put off, to effect favorably the condition of the appropriation. The items for repairs of apparatus and hose make nearly one-half the saving, but the apparatus and hose have been kept all the time in good order, and their present condition will certainly bear comparison with any other period in the history of the department. No special appropriation was asked for, or made for the purchase of new apparatus, but needful additions have been made to the extent of $7,441.50, and paid for out of the amount saved from the appropriation for repairs.

The large increase in the number of men permanently employed over those employed in the year ending May 1, 1874, is shown in a comparison of the aggregates of the pay-rolls for each year, as follows: —

For the year ending May 1, 1875	.	.	$342,414	83
“ “ “ “ May 1, 1874	.	.	259,635	94
Increase	$82,778	89

It will be readily seen, too, that the increase in the number of men permanently employed necessitates an increase in expenditures of all kinds, and yet our whole expenditure for the year is less than that of the preceding year. The Auditor's report shows the total amount paid for the Fire Department and Fire-alarm Telegraph to have been

In the year ending May 1, 1874	.	.	$642,732	76

The amount paid to the Cochituate Water Board for water, and care of hydrants, which is an arbitrary charge, based upon no actual use of water, is included in both years, and was as follows : —

In the year ending May, 1875, —

Water	.	.	$57,240 00
Hydrants	.	.	37,992 00

----------------------------------	---	---	-------------

The item of repairs of houses is an entirely new charge to the expenses of the Fire Department, as always before the present year the work has been done under the direction of the Superintendent of Buildings, and charged to the Public Buildings department.

At the commencement of the present year the City Council transferred this duty to the Fire Commissioners, with an appropriation of $20,000, of which only $6,815.28 has been used ; but this amount is included in the $629,288.16, the expenses of the department for the year. The fitting up of a repair shop with machinery, and the tools to the amount of $5,526.84, is also included in the same sum.

In another place in this report we give a full statement of all the expenditures of the year, but these remarks we think necessary and sufficient to show how they compare with those under the old system, and how we have managed the financial affairs of the department.

The Board closed their last report by expressing the hope that the result of the new organization would be good discipline and efficiency, a progressive and improving Fire Department. They feel that they have advanced somewhat in this direction, but aim at a standard always beyond any present accomplishment.

FIRE-ALARM TELEGRAPH.

JOHN F. KENNARD, Superintendent, Office, City Hall. He has also the care and charge of all the public Bells and Clocks.

Operators, Charles A. Stearns, Cyrus A. George, Granville S. Mendell, Charles M. Chaplin.

Repairers, George S. Thom, Adam McAfee, Uzziel Putnam, Wm. H. Godfrey. Benjamin F. Burchsted, General Assistant.

A constant watch is kept at the office, City Hall, night and day, by the operators. Each operator serves two alternate terms, of three hours each, as principal, and the same as assistant operator; so that twelve hours' service at the office, out of every twenty-four, is required from each operator. No operator is permitted to sleep during his watch, unless expressly relieved by some one else, and by consent of the Superintendent.

Each operator is accountable to the Superintendent for any mistakes that may occur at the office during his hours of duty.

An accurate account is kept of the time of giving each alarm, and of the station from which it originates, and all other necessary information.

Alarms are transmitted to the Central Office, from the Signal Stations or Boxes, by pulling a slide in the Box. The police officers, and one other person resident near each station, have keys to the Boxes.

ALARMS are sounded by striking the number of the box upon the Alarm Bells, and upon the Gongs in the Engine-Houses.

EXAMPLES: To announce the existence of a fire near Box No. 41 (Old South Church), the bells will strike four, make a pause of a few seconds, then strike one, thus : 4 — 1. This will be repeated at intervals of about one-half minute.

For a fire near Box No. 145 (South Boston Point), the bells will strike one, make a pause, then strike four, another pause, then strike five, thus : 1 — 4 — 5.

Second Alarms are sounded by striking ten blows. Third Alarms are sounded by striking twelve blows twice, thus : 12 — 12.

In cases where the entire department are required, alarms are sounded by striking twelve blows three times, thus : 12 — 12 — 12.

In cases where Hook & Ladder Companies only are wanted, signal to be given by striking ten blows once, with the number of the Company struck twice, thus : Hook & Ladder No. one, 10 — 1 — 1. Hook & Ladder No. four, 10 — 4 — 4. Hook & Ladder No. seven, 10 — 7 — 7.

If more than one Hook & Ladder Company is wanted, the signal will be given thus : Hook & Ladder one and three, 10 — 1 — 1 — 3 — 3. Hook & Ladder two and four, 10 — 2 — 2 — 4 — 4. Hook & Ladder five and seven, 10 — 5 — 5 — 7 — 7.

No person will give alarms for the same fire (after the first alarm has been given) without an order from an Engineer ; and the person so ordered will be sure to go to the same box from which the first alarm was given, and report the same to the Chief Engineer.

Alarms are usually given about half a minute from the time the Box is operated.

DIRECTIONS TO THOSE WHO HOLD SIGNAL KEYS.

1. If a fire is discovered in your vicinity, go to the nearest Box.
2. Pull the slide down once and let go. Wait at the Box, and direct the firemen to the fire.

3. If you hear no reply on the bells, pull again. If still no reply, go to the nearest Box.

4. The police, upon hearing the bells, will spring their rattles and call the number of the station.

CAUTIONS.

1. Be sure your Box is locked before leaving it.
2. Never open the Box, except in cases of fire.
3. Never let the key go out of your possession, unless called for by the Superintendent.

There are 224 Signal Stations, distributed and located in accordance with the following plan : —
